2 Timothy 2:2, "And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others."

I am prayerfully seeking to focus attention on helping to impact _____ for Christ between now and December of 2012. I know it will involve praying for this person, plus meeting together, doing projects, reading Christian books, having spiritual evaluation times, or just being friends. My main reason for doing this is not for selfish gain but it comes from my desire to see him/her be like Jesus. It is my desire to mentor this person as best I can under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

I personally want to be "on mission" in placing the Lord as the #1 priority in my life...above friends, work, school, family, or my desires. I want HIM to be the focus in my life and I am asking that HE will be seen in my life and actions as I live in community with others.

I prayerfully want to seek to impact ONE person for Christ between now and December 2012. Please help me be "on mission" to make serving Jesus more important than anything else I my life. My ONE is _____.

1. Think of ONE believer you might be able to help. It should be a person of the same sex.
2. Talk to that friend. You may not be close friends. It may even be someone younger than you. Ask to talk to the person to see if he/she would like you to be a prayer partner to help him/her grow spiritually. (This person would need to agree to lean about God from you.) If the person agrees, set up a time to meet. It could be over a Coke or whatever. Plan to give about an hour for the meeting time.
3. What to do when you meet: Pray and talk about what God is teaching you both since the last time you talked. Get the person an OnTrack Devotional book or another Bible study, or even use the Book of Proverbs in the Bible. Set up another time to meet. Each time you get together, talk about what you are learning by spending time reading and applying the Bible, memorize a verse of Scripture, laugh and be friends. Share positive ways God is helping your life and have regular evaluation times when you meet by using accountability questions such as those in the On Track Devotional book. Do outreach and ministry together on occasion. It can really help others.
4. Become a strong prayer partner for this ONE person.

2 Timothy 2:2 tells us how important it is to multiply our lives. We need one another.

And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others. 2 Timothy 2:2
